

NBC Rowing Navigation Map

Seekonk River & Providence Harbor

North Bound Rowing Area

South Bound Rowing Area

● Red Buoys - Marks the starboard edge of the channel for vessels heading north.

● Green Buoy - Marks the starboard edge of the channel for vessels heading south.

Stay on Path - Areas in pink and light green are one way paths which have appropriate boundaries for rowing shells. Stay out of the area between the opposing rowing paths.

Be Aware - Pay attention to your surroundings. Look and listen for people, boats, bridges, buoys, fishing lines, and floating debris. Use a mirror if you can.

Communicate - If a boat is coming too close let them know where you are. If you see a rower who is off course kindly let them know.

Be Cooperative - The water is public domain, share the river and play nice. As a representative of Narragansett Boat Club, keep our reputation in the highest light.

Safety First - Know your limit. Row with a buddy if you can.

Passing Etiquette - Faster shells pass on port and slower shells yield to starboard. The same as you would if driving on a road.
